first seen the light of day on a farm about five miles northeast of this city, where his parents resided for about five years. That he has been honored by his classmates is an indication of his ability and popularity and will be pleasing news to the many Holt county friends of his parents.

The high school debating team went to Valentine last Friday and debated with the team representing the Valentine high school Saturday night, the question being, "Resolved, that labor unions on the whole are beneficial." It was announced at the close of the debate that Valentine had won, by a margin of a few points, but O'Neill contends that they should have been awarded the decision, having over forty points the best of it, by adding the points given by each of the judges, which was the method of decision agreed upon prior to the debate. The judges were: Dr. Hoxey of Valentine, T. V. Golden of this city and C. A. Ruby of Wood Lake.

After following the art preservative of all arts for nearly a quarter of a century, fifteen years of which he spent in our employ on The Frontier, Romaine Saunders laid aside the stick and rule last week and has moved with his family to his farm in Wheeler county where he can enjoy the gentle Nebraska zephyrs while tilling the soil. "Pete" has been a good, faithful employee and as an artistic job printer had but few superiors in the state. The Frontier regretted to lose his services but believes that if he tackles farming with the same energy and industry that he used in the printing business he will make a success of it. That life on the farm may be as profitable and as enjoyable to him as "pictured in his sweetest dreams of life on the farm" is the wish of The Frontier force.

Dan Finnegan arrived in the city last Thursday for a visit of a couple of months with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Finnegan. Since leaving O'Neill, about four years ago, Dan has seen considerable of the world. He put in a couple of years in San Francisco and left there a little over a year ago for the Panama canal zone, where he remained for a little over a year, leaving there about six weeks ago. While in Panama he was with a bridge gang in the employ of the United Fruit company, who are building railroads through their property. Dan says that country is no place for a white man and that most of them remain only a year. He was taken down with malaria fever and compelled to come north. He says work on the canal is being pushed forward rapidly, the work being done by niggers from Jamaica, with white men as bosses. The government maintains good hospitals there and the sanitary conditions of the zone are carefully looked after. There is big money in that country he says but for his part he prefers the states where a man does not have to take a dose of quinine with every meal.

Last week there was stolen from John Berigan of Ewing a wagon box, two spring seats and an axe and shovel. As there has been considerable petty thieving going on for the past year Sheriff Grady was notified of the theft and went to Ewing the next day and after investigating the matter drove to the farm of John A. Davenport near Page where he found the stolen property and numerous other articles pilfered from their owners during the past year. Besides Mr. Berigan's property the following stolen goods were found: Set double harness belonging to Adam Homan, Ewing; saddle, stolen from John Prill, Emporia; set of harness belonging to Mr. Quinn, living east of O'Neill; single harness and saddle stolen from J. A. Cowperthwaite & Son last June; wagon tongue, neck yoke, set double trees and a log chain from Mellor & Quilly. Sheriff Grady arrested J. A. Davenport, upon whose place the stolen goods were found, and William Bunton, who was working for him, and they were brought to this city and placed in the county jail. On Tuesday a warrant was sworn out by J. A. Cowperthwaite who alleged they stole property valued at $43.50 from him on June 27, 1909. They were brought before Judge Malone Tuesday, waived preliminary and were bound over to the district court in the sum of $1,000. Davenport has given bond, $100 in cash and security for the balance, and is now at liberty, while Bunton is being boarded in the Hotel Grady at county expense. Davenport was arrested last evening as he was about to take a train for home upon complaint of James Quinn, whose harness was found in his possession, and he is again an inmate of the county jail.
